Vocabulary Words: Symbolism, portrait, death mask, inlay, pattern, hieroglyphic

Supplies: 12x18" white paper, sharpies, metallic paints, paint brushes

The sixth grade students study Egypt, so we decided we would study King Tut's death mask. We began by drawing a 1 1/2" border around the edges. The students wrote their name, as well as three hobbies in hieroglyphics in the border. Then we drew King Tut's mask in the center. These were painted with metallic paints, and are absolutely stunning!

Copywrite http://techyteacher.net/artlessons/sixth/kingtut.html