Herbivores Activity

Directions: Imagine you are a rabbit. Rabbits are herbivores and mainly eat plants. Write a short story or journal about your day as a rabbit. Include the place you live and the foods you are searching for.

Tip: (Think about bugs bunny...what did he eat?)

__________________________________________________________________
__________________________________________________________________
__________________________________________________________________
__________________________________________________________________
__________________________________________________________________
__________________________________________________________________
__________________________________________________________________
__________________________________________________________________
__________________________________________________________________
__________________________________________________________________
__________________________________________________________________
__________________________________________________________________